DETAILED ACTION

1. The indicated allowability of claims 6,15,24 in first office action of 8/22/2005 and final office action of 1/13/2006 are withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference(s) to Cheng et al. Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) Cheng et al. follows.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Cheng et al [US Pub: 2002/0191544].

Regarding claims 1,10,19, Cheng et al. disclosed in their invention of "Method and System for Interlayer Control Between Re-Sequencing and Retransmission Entities" for retransmission of frames when a failed attempt to transmit a frame at a physical layer of a receiver was detected (identifies missing PDU) and sending a message to link control layer (RLP) of the receiver to indicate the failed attempt to transmit a frame has been detected (Para 0043), and upon receipt of the message, sending a retransmission message (retransmission request) from the link control layer

(Para 0015-0019,0043) of the receiver to sender to retransmit data associated with the frame [Figs 1-3, Para 0015-0059].

Regarding claim 2, Cheng et al. disclosed a method for the receiver to determine if a frame has been received in error (performs CRC for PDU/ frames) or lost (missing PDU) during the transmission [Para 0015-0021].

Regarding claim 3,12,21, Cheng et al. also disclosed link control layer implementing RLP for a data channel to carry information frames pertaining to that channel [Fig 1, Para 0020-0033].

Regarding claims 4,13,22, Cheng et al. disclosed that the frame is a physical layer frame encapsulating data represented by an RLP frame and the sending step further comprises generating the retransmission message to include identification (sequence number, size and type of PDU/SDU Para 0018) of a recently received data (PDU) such that the sender can identify data (PDU) [Para 0015-0022,0047-0057].

Regarding claims 5,14,23, Cheng et al. disclosed that the frame is a physical layer frame (PDU), the method for receiving the retransmission message at a link control layer (RLP) of the sender and determining data (PDU) to retransmit and retransmitting the data requiring retransmission [Fig 3, Para 0031-0043,0047-0057].

Regarding claims 6,15,24, Cheng et al. disclosed that the message is a primitive indication (early notification) of a failed attempt to receive frames in the physical layer [Para 0031-0039].

Regarding claims 7,16,25, Cheng et al. disclosed the retransmission message is an acknowledgement message [Para 0042].

Art Unit: 2664

Regarding claims 8,17,26, Cheng et al. disclosed the frame is a physical layer frame the method of sending link control layer frames from the sender over a wireless communication channel to the receiver via physical layer frames from the sender and setting a timer (transmission time interval timer) upon transmitting each of the link control layer frames from the sender and resetting the timer upon confirmation the link control layer frames were received or a subsequent link control layer frame is sent [Para 0011,0033-0057].

Regarding claims 9,18,27, Cheng et al. disclosed timer (transmission time interval timer) for one of the link control layer frames expires, sending a request message to the link control layer of the receiver from the sender requesting identification of a last portion of data and a link control layer frame associated with the timer expiration [Para 0033-0057].

Regarding claim 11,20, Cheng et al. disclosed that the physical layer receives at least a portion of the frame (missing packet or PDU) and determines at least a portion of the data associated with the frame (residual frame error rate) is either unrecoverable [Para 0032].

Response to Amendment

4. Applicant's amendment, see Remarks, filed on 2/21/2006, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1-3,5 under 35 USC 102(e) and rejection(s) of claims 4, 7-14,16-23 and 25-27 under 35 USC 103(a) have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Cheng et al.

Conclusion
